

Toy Play as a Therapy

It helps to release the negative feelings accumulated in children from childhood experiences.

Children involved in toy play in a free atmosphere and no force or no commands applied from teachers in this room.

